Pacific Situation Grows More Grave Along Flood Zones

Puget Island Is Under Water: Canadian Navy Stands by in Fraser Area

Portland, Ore., June 9 (AP)—The Columbia and Fraser rivers cut deeper today into soggy dikes on the Pacific northwest's far-flung flood front. The situation grew more critical by the hour.

A new breakthrough in the lower valley of the Columbia drowned Puget Island. Other eastern barriers along the swollen river's possible stretch run from Portland to the Pacific were getting softer, submerged by 21 days of water's assault. U. S. Army engineers called their condition "very critical."

Canadian Navy forces stood by for evacuation of critical sectors along the Fraser where the river cut deep with high tides coming in from the sea.

Here is the grim picture for Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia:

Thirty dead, Vancouver, war housing city near Portland, yielded to two more inches yesterday. The broadest of the total of known dead to four in the Memorial Day disaster which wiped out the city of 14,700.

Hundreds still missing! The Red Cross reported 200 persons unaccounted for since the flooding of Vancouver. The number was decreasing, however, it was 715 Monday, U.S. engineers said.

Sixty thousand homeless. The number may be higher now due to breakthroughs of the last few days. Nightly evacuation has been aided by Canadian authorities for 5,000 residents of Queen'sborough, Idaho island suburb of New Westminster, B. C.

Damages in the millions and growing daily. Floodwaters now cover about 150 square miles in the U. S. sector alone, more than half the area of Rhode Island.

Eleven thousand men are fighting.

Added Sum Taken From City Fund Makes Total $95,000

An ordinance authorizing a $90,000 bond issue to finance reconstruction and resurfacing of some of the city streets was passed unanimously by the Common Council Tuesday night.

The action was taken following adoption of a report of the Finance, Ways and Means Committee which recommended that amount of bonds be issued, which with the down payment of $5,000 appropriated from the city budget, will provide an appropriation of $95,000 for highway reconstruction.

An appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose has been requested from the council by Mayor Oscar V. Newark, the Board of Public Works and Ernest A. Stueding, public works superintendent, in a communication from the mayor received by the council on June 1.

It was explained after the meeting by Alderman Joseph N. Bruck, chairman of the Finance, Ways and Means Committee, that the $5,000 cut in the appropriation was not occasioned by disagreement among committee members but by technicality over the fixing of a rate of interest which makes the bonds easier to sell at the $90,000 amount.

Two other requests for appropriations which were referred to committee at the June 1 meeting were not reported out of committee Tuesday. These were the request for $12,000 for repairs to the recreation center at 97 Broadway, also made by the Board of Public Works, and the request of $6,900, 30 for structural changes and alterations to the Central fire station, made by the Board of Fire Commissioners. These will be held over until the next meeting, scheduled for July 6.

Another communication was received from Thomas F. Saccamano relative to the request of journeymen and master barbers relative to their request for legislation fixing the hours during which barbershops may do business in this city.

Barbers Ask New Hour

The communication states that at a joint meeting of the Kingston Journeymen Barbers and the Kingston Master Barbers on May 25, a resolution was passed to amend a previous resolution to extend Friday night closing time from 7 p. m. until 8 p. m. This was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

The original request was made by the barbers at the May 3 meeting of the council, at which time legislation was asked to fix the hours for barber shops to remain open from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m. daily, except that on Friday they remain open until 7 p. m.

Members of the Laws and Rules Committee, who have the matter under study, said Tuesday night they have decided to hold a public hearing on the matter of the barber shop hours on June 22, the time to be announced.

Asks Quit-Claims

Also received by the council Tuesday night was a communication from James G. Connelly, corporation counsel, recommending

Truman Challenges G.O.P. Opponents on Three Issues

Aboard Truman Train en Route to Spokane, Wash., June 9 (AP)—President Truman today challenged the Republicans to keep Congress in session until price control, housing and farm bills are passed.

He made a slashing attack on the Republican congressional leadership, mentioning the opposition party for the first time since he left Washington last Thursday on a western tour.

The President charged that Congress, under Republican domination, had wrecked price control, stalled the housing program, virtually abolished the Labor Department, tried to tear up the Employment Act of 1946, torn the budget apart, and practiced "economy in the reverse."

Congress weakened the Labor Department, Mr. Truman declared, after the Republicans had said in their platform "they were

Vandenberg Scores Cut In Aid Cash

Decision Improvident, He Tells Committee Considering Help for Foreign Nations

Calls It 'Repeal' Reverses U.S. Policy at Home, Abroad, He Says

Washington, June 9 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) today called the House cut in foreign aid funds a "dangerous and improvident" decision which "guts the enterprise."

The Senate Foreign Relations chairman gave these views to the Senate Appropriations Committee which is considering the foreign aid appropriations bill.

The administration had asked $6,533,000,000 for a 12-month program. The House last week voted to slash the amount to $5,980,000,000 and spread it over a 15-month period.

Vandenberg said the House cuts in the economic cooperation administration have been variously estimated from one half to two billion dollars. He said the latter figure "is probably closer to the net effect."

He said that in effect Congress had voted last spring to undertake the job of helping Europe back to economic health, but now the House was refusing the money to back up that policy.

Earnestly, Vandenberg said the declared policies of Congress should not be vetoed in that manner and branded "before the world as capricious, unreliable and impotent."

"It would be the last to say that the figures are unobtainable," he said.

"But I do quarrel, Mr. Chairman, with any reduction which subverts the principles and purposes of the original Congressional commitment. I emphatically quarrel with the final, overall, meat-and-potatoes technique which arbitrarily spreads the net appropriations over 15 instead of 12 months which is equivalent to a horizontal cut of 20 per cent and which, in my humble opinion, guts the enterprise."

"In one fell swoop this takes away something like a billion dollars without a scintilla of regard for all of the carefully screened figures upon which all E.C.A. estimates were made and upon which its program must be built."

The E.C.A. is the European Economic Administration, the organization set up to administer the aid-Europe program.

Repals 'Intent, Purpose'

Vandenberg contended the practical effect of the House cut was by indirectness to repeal the "intent and purpose" of the European recovery legislation and "reverse this established American foreign policy both at home and abroad."

He said the 16 western European countries which have entered into the program have proceeded to "seek unprecedented unities in response to our self-help specifications."

"They accepted our good faith," he said.

Man Is Arrested For Flashing Light At Reuther House

Auto Worker Is Taken Into Custody by Police Guards in Detroit

Detroit, June 9 (AP)—Police announced today the arrest of a man who was flashing a flashlight around the windows of the home of Walter P. Reuther, who was gravely wounded by an assailant last April 20.

Police Lieut. Harry Laschen of the special investigation squad identified the man as Charles Kurgan, 46, an auto worker.

The man was taken into custody by police guards who have been stationed at the Reuther home day and night.

Reuther, president of the C.I.O. United Auto Workers, was wounded seriously by a shotgun blast fired through a kitchen window of his home.

"We haven't checked Kurgan's story fully yet," Laschen said. "No charge was placed against the man. He was not armed when arrested."

Lieut. Laschen gave this account of the arrest and questioning:

Kurgan, employed at the Dodge main plant and a U.A.W.-C.I.O. member, turned his flashlight on Reuther's house number about 11:45 p. m. and proceeded to a side window. Two policemen grabbed him.

Kurgan said he was in the Reuther home several years ago when it was built as "sort of a model home." He was planning to build a home and already had excavated his lot. He said he wanted to pattern his house after Reuther's and needed to measure the distance from the windows to the ground to determine whether the excavation was deep enough.

Negro Is Elected

Richmond, Va., June 8 (AP)—Citizens of Richmond, Va., elected a 41-year-old Negro attorney to a seat on their new nine-member City Council today. He is Oliver W. Hill, World War 2 veteran. His election marked the first time that a member of his race had been named to the city's governing body in many years.

County Agency Says All Would Pay Tax Increase

Two Local Unions, 1,000 Signers Are Behind Firemen City Assessment Raising Would Also Affect Veterans, Shutter Declares

Veterans' exemption from real property taxes as outlined under Paragraph 5, of Section 4 of the New York State Tax Law will not be affected by the recently announced intention of the city of Kingston to put into effect a blanket 33 1/3 per cent increase in assessed valuations. The increased assessed valuation regulation will apply to properties owned by veterans, it was stated at the Veterans' Service Agency office.

There have been rumors circulated that the city of Kingston would not be able to increase the assessed valuations on veterans' properties where an exemption had been granted.

Howard C. Shurtler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, told a Freeman reporter that he knew of no provision under the law which would prevent the 33 1/3 per cent increase in assessed valuation being applied to properties owned by veterans to whom an exemption had been granted under the provisions of the Tax Law.

Limited exemption is provided for under the State Tax Law, such exemption is from real property taxation and does not include exemption from school taxes. The amount of exemption is limited to $5,000 and the task of administering

H. A. Tremper Dies In Poughkeepsie

Former City Supervisor Was Life Mason; Had Insurance Firm

Harry A. Tremper, former supervisor of the Ninth Ward, and head bookkeeper for Canfield Supply Company here previous to his removal to Poughkeepsie, died at his home in the Greenbush Park section of that city, Tuesday evening. He was engaged in the insurance business at the time of his death.

A native of Rhinebeck, he was a son of the late Harry A. and Anna Tremper. While a resident of Kingston, Mr. Tremper was very active in church, fraternal and civic affairs.

Mr. Tremper was a life member of Rondout Lodge 343 F. & A. M., having joined that order in 1903. He served as master of the lodge during 1912 and 1913. He attended the First Baptist Church, Poughkeepsie.

Surviving are his wife, who was Carrie Tongue and a daughter, Catherine, wife of H. Winfield VanDyke of Poughkeepsie.

Funeral will be held from the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Montrose Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 and Thursday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Bargain Days Set By Commerce Unit For August 13, 14

Retailers to Meet June 22 to Arrange Plans for Sale; Report 414 Members

Kingston Bargain Days were set for Tuesday and Wednesday, August 13 and 14, during the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday night.

Arthur London, chairman of the retailers' committee, announced the selection of the two dates, and said that a meeting of all retailers has been called for June 22 at 10 a. m. The meeting will be held at 74 John street at which time final plans for the two-day sale will be made.

The membership drive will continue for two more weeks, Robert E. Teetsel, chairman of the membership committee announced. To date 414 paid memberships have been reported.

A resolution was adopted fixing May 1 as the date when all memberships will become due. All renewals becoming due after July 1, will be pro-rated to May 1, 1949.

To Submit Budget

It also was announced that the budget committee, headed by Raymond W. Garaghan, will submit a budget for the next meeting of the directors. The budget will include receipt of new memberships. The annual retailers outing and

Democrats Predict Housing To Be Big Campaign Issue

Washington, June 9 (AP)—A wide open Republican split over housing legislation led Democrats to predict today that home building will be a major issue in the presidential campaign.

Rep. Wolcott of Michigan, Republican chairman of the House Banking Committee, wheeled out his own housing bill after crying "Socialism" at part of the measure.

Wolcott's bill leaves out whole sections of the Senate measure sponsored jointly by Senators Taft, Ellender (D-La.) and Wagner (D-N. Y.).

These would provide for 500,000 government financed low-rent dwelling units, slum clearance and city redevelopment projects and government-sponsored housing research.

Wolcott aimed his "Socialism" charges at the public housing and slum clearance provisions.

"Of course I don't think Senator Taft is a Socialist," the Michigan House member told a news conference at which he outlined his substitute bill.

But Wolcott said he thinks part of the Taft-backed measure "fashions the key by which the House of Socialism is opened."

House Democrats, plainly gleeful over the Taft-Wolcott rupture, were quick to throw their support to the Senate-passed bill.

Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas announced he will join a floor fight to tack the omitted sections of the T-E-W bill onto the House measure.

"It is a very remarkable development," he said.

Friday Is Date Set by Bernadotte

Arabs Answer Before Deadline Time Set by Count; Radio Tells of Jewish View

Tel Aviv Bombed Egyptian Planes Drop Explosives Upon City

Cairo, June 9 (AP)—Arabs and Jews replied today to the United Nations proposal for a four-week truce in Palestine and members of each camp said they accepted unconditionally.

Authoritative Jewish informants at Lake Success said the Israel Government approved unconditionally the plan of the U. N. mediator, to become effective at 1 a. m. Eastern Standard Time Friday. Arab spokesmen in both Cairo and Amman, Trans-Jordan, said the Arab acceptance was without strings.

The Arabs replied well before the deadline set by the mediator. The Jewish reply, probably because of communications difficulties, arrived from Tel Aviv 50 minutes after the deadline.

(An N.B.C. broadcast from Tel Aviv said Israel accepted the truce unconditionally. It said Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok announced this in a 1,000-word communication.)

Count Folke Bernadotte, the mediator, fixed the truce for 1 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, Friday.

In Paris, Dr. Chaim Weizman, president of Israel, told reporters "we are, in general, disposed to accept a truce."

Foreign Minister Fawzi Pasha Mulki of Trans-Jordan announced the Jewish reply, probably because of communications difficulties, arrived from Tel Aviv 50 minutes after the deadline.

The text of the reply was not disclosed here immediately. In Trans-Jordan, Fawzi Pasha said there would be no difficulty from the Arab side in beginning the truce Friday morning, as Bernadotte proposed.

Count Bernadotte declined to say whether the Zionist reply had been received in Cairo by the deadline. He said there would be no further news until early evening. This indicated he was allowing several hours for his advisers to reach interested authorities and the U. N. at Lake Success before making any public statement.

Egyptian Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashi Pasha told reporters the Arab reply already had been sent to Arab delegations at Lake Success.

While the Israeli cabinet met in Tel Aviv on the truce terms, Egyptian planes bombed the central business and residential sections of that city. A dispatch from Tel Aviv said it was feared casualties were heavy. This was the second straight day in which bombs were scattered through the center of town rather than on the outskirts as in most previous attacks.

Jewish army headquarters said that during the night Israeli planes bombed Arab artillery positions at a former radar station near Kfar Biddo and Nebi Samwil, from which shells had been hurled at Jerusalem.

While the truce was being considered, fighting continued in the south on the coastal route to Tel Aviv, where the Jews have part of an Egyptian force encircled, and in the north at the Arab triangle of strength.

Bernadotte said last night he was convinced no further delays in a cease fire were warranted. He said that if his terms were rejected or accepted conditionally, he would refer the matter back to the Security Council.

Jefferson Patterson, U. S. charge d'affaires in Cairo, called on Bernadotte at Shepherds Hotel this morning. He told news-

Historian Says Arabs Will Always Resist West's Force

By HERBERT WILHOIT
Los Angeles, June 9.—(AP)—Military action will never solve the Palestine problem, in the opinion of historian Harold A. Lamb.

"It is because the Arab people will resist for generations, if necessary, the pressure of western influence behind development of a sovereign Jewish state, he said in an interview, just as they will resist any foreign state imposed by force.

"On the other hand, Lamb believes the Arabs and Zionists will reach an amicable agreement for colonization by immigrants if they are left to themselves to solve their problems.

"As long as you increase the foreign pressure, just that long you increase the cleavage and the impossibility of an Arab agreement," he said.

Author of numerous historical works including "The Crusades," Lamb spent two wartime years in the Middle East on the War Department staff.

Most recently, Lamb said, it has been found impossible for the forces of the crusades down the ages to conquer the people of the Middle East by pushing in from a Holy Land coastal bridgehead to the interior, as might be necessary for an international army or police force if one were to attempt to enforce United Nations partition decrees.

Arab forces, if brought into the field in strength, would not necessarily employ tactics of regular armies. It wouldn't be necessary, because resistance can be carried on for years by guerrilla warfare.

The geography of the coast is such that the roads, running through gullies, can easily be attacked or defended by comparative handfuls of rifleman operating from the heights.

Lamb summed up the situation this way:

"A civil war such as this could be the worst form of warfare, with raids by night upon villages, and a mounting toll of dead among non-combatants. As for arms, the whole area is littered with the debris of the last year—trucks, rifles, and even planes.

"The Middle Easterners, who are also Turks, Kurds and Armenians, will endure no return to the rule by rifle. History has made that clear, from the time of the Crusaders, the Napoleonic expedition, the Turkish reaction under Kemal Pasha at the end of the last war, and the resistance of the people of Syria and Lebanon to the French military push at the end of this war.

"What Anglo-American intervention can accomplish is to arrange a truce without military coercion."

Reds Invent Hand
Moscow (AP)—A Russian has invented an artificial hand that a blind man could not tell wasn't real when he shook it, says "True." The hand was invented by Victor Kononov who lost an arm in military service. The announcement said the Kononov hand can use a hammer, saw, chisel, wrench or axe. It can also be used in driving an automobile, writing and picking up anything a human hand can raise. Hundreds of persons are said to be using the Kononov hand including N. A. Nikitin, the famous circus horse trainer. He carries his whip in this hand.

Ellenville Road Is To Be Reconstructed

Reconstruction of the section of Route 52 from Woodbourne in Sullivan county eastward to Ellenville in Ulster county is one of the 11 highway construction projects for which sealed bid proposals will be received by Charles H. Sells, state superintendent of public works, on Wednesday, July 7, it was announced today.

Specifications on the Route 52 project, as listed by Sells, state that the highway is to be reconstructed with 24-foot treated gravel foundation course and will include grading, drainage and extensive relocation. The distance to be reconstructed is 10.94 miles and the estimated cost is $1,220,000.

Also among the projects advertised for bids is the reconstruction with 24-foot asphalt concrete pavement of 7.10 miles of Route 199 from Red Hook through Rock City to the Taconic State Parkway at Lafayetteville in Dutchess county. This also includes grading, drainage and some relocation and is estimated at $1,076,000.

Proposals at the same time will be received on nine other projects throughout the state, at a total cost estimated at $6,378,000 and including 55.71 miles of highway. The bids will be received at 10:30 a. m. on Wednesday, July 7, by Superintendent Sells at the State Office Building in Albany.

Mrs. Alex Brown of Leibhardt spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Davis.

Mrs. Robert Roosa, Mrs. DeWitt Barley and Miss Sadie Rider pleasantly surprised Mrs. Ethel Gillispie on Wednesday afternoon, June 2, the occasion being her birthday. Cards were played and refreshments served. The birthday cake was made by Mrs. Roosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Davis spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob DeWitt and sons in Mettacaohonts.

Heat Wave Continues

Moscow, June 9 (AP)—Moscow's heat wave continued today. The weatherman said yesterday's 92-degree heat was the highest temperature in the Soviet capital in 27 years and predicted the mercury would climb to 93 degrees before this day is over.

Special Services Here on Sunday For Overseas Aid

The president of the Kingston Ministerial Association has issued the following statement in connection with the Overseas Aid drive:

"Save the Children" Sabbath will be observed in local churches, synagogues and other places of worship this week-end to focus attention upon the forthcoming campaign of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children, it was announced by Hugo Wessler, local chairman of the campaign which is conducting the Crusade for Children.

Special sermons and services have been arranged by the local clergy to emphasize the tragic plight of millions of starving and helpless victims in war torn nations, and to urge the importance of extending emergency aid as a matter of humanitarianism and good neighborliness, Chairman Wessler stated.

"While churches and religious groups have always been active and interested in aiding all causes for the welfare of mankind," Mr. Wessler said, "they have special reason for sponsoring the Crusade for Children Appeal. Its chief beneficiaries will be the many millions of helpless children scattered throughout the world whose main hope for survival rests in the generosity of peoples of more fortunate lands.

"It is significant that included among the participating agencies are many of the major sectarian and denominational organizations in this country, but their worldwide programs of relief and service are administered without regard to creed, race or politics.

"Adherents of various faiths in the city of Kingston will be found among the membership of the several organizations which are participating agencies such as American Friends Service Committee, Church World Service, Unitarian Service Committee, War Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference, and the Y.W.C.A. World Emergency Fund."

As an indication of the unqualified support accorded the appeal, Chairman Wessler cited the following endorsement made by Charles P. Taft, president of the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America and chairman of the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid:

"American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children has been organized to unite the major church and nationality groups engaged in foreign relief. It meets the needs for unity so successfully met by the National War Fund. It gives opportunity for the people of the United States to continue their traditional support of voluntary relief abroad, as well as to further the child welfare objectives of the United Nations.

The seriousness of the situation abroad has stimulated many efforts to provide additional help to the war-distressed through voluntary contributions to supplement the government's general relief supplies now going overseas. In order that this humanitarian service may be productive and accomplish effectively the purpose of the donors, all contributions should be channeled through your church or synagogue.

Details of special Crusade for Children Sabbath services in local churches, synagogues and other religious groups will be announced by the various groups, Chairman Wessler added.

"Inasmuch as we have done it unto one of the least of these my Brethren, ye have done it unto Me." Remember these holy words, and help the hungry little ones overseas. Give now to the Crusade for Children of American Overseas Aid and United Nations Appeal for Children.

Program Is Okayed
Washington, June 9 (AP)—The House yesterday passed a bill to authorize an eradication program against the golden nematode, a worm which destroys potatoes and tomatoes. The bill now goes to the White House. The pest has been found on Long Island, N. Y., but nowhere else in the United States. This measure is designed to control it to prevent a spread to other sections.

The Uptown Mayfair Opens Tomorrow with a 1-Day Celebration!

Uptown Mayfair Opening Specials

We're back uptown and looking for volume for this 1-day affair. We'd rather make a small profit on lots of customers at this opening than a regular profit on a small number of people. A store opening is a golden opportunity to make friends and we're taking it! We want more women at this new shop than even come to our famous Dollar Days which, as our customers know, is a lot of women! You will find every special is of high grade quality, the kind of merchandise you think of when you think of THE MAYFAIR.

Because a MAYFAIR event is a signal for a crowd, we're opening early tomorrow to spread out, the customers, and we hope you won't have to stand in line but if you do have to wait a few minutes we guarantee you'll jump with joy when you see and feel these lovely things we carefully bought and put away months ago just for this opening. If you're really interested in getting something extra for your money (which is mighty rare these days) come on in and see this show and get what is awfully hard to get—QUALITY AT A PRICE!

Bored Listener: "I can vouch for that. I was in Africa at the time and the lion ran into me and when I stroked his mane it was still quite damp."

Muenches Take Boston
Boston (AP)—The un-Eng-landish name of Muench may become a power in this realm of Lowell, Cabots and Lodges. Charles Muench will take over the baton of Serge Koussevitzky as permanent conductor of the Boston Symphony next spring and Charles Lawrence Muench, president of Flood Rubber Co., has just become president of the Chamber of Commerce. The two are not related.

As Others See Us

By FRANK TRIPP

A common attitude of charitable Americans in two world wars took the blame for aggression off the people and put it upon the military of Germany and Japan.

It was not unusual to hear that the Germans and the Japanese were quite good people, with whom we could get along swimmingly if it were not for the militarists who controlled them.

It is a belief expressed most by Americans who had lived or traveled in the lands of our enemies; those who got back into the heart of those countries and had a chance to become acquainted with people and learn their hopes.

The opinion did not prevail too much among our soldiers who returned. It was more often encountered after the first World War than after the last.

Nevertheless there exists a certain pity among us for people who are dominated by militaristic governments. Maybe it is time we had like pity for ourselves. We are likely to believe that no people, as a nation, want war.

Whether or not we absolve foreign masses of blame, we cannot deny that statesmanship of the past has been destroyed or strained relations between nations, and more wars, than have unfriendly acts or gestures of all the common people of all time.

The people do not start wars. Nor do they create incidents which bring wars. For instance, what part had the American people in the last Russo of our State Department? In which part of our diplomats told Russia we'd like to talk; another part said no we don't; still another said we were not about that. And made a veritable fool of the United States before all the world.

What part have the American people in the maladministration of billions in European reconstruction relief, or in the foreign bank markets which thrive off the goods which never reach the people or the purposes for which they are meant?

What part had the people in our antics in Palestine? By what can the world judge the American people other than by acts of our statesmen and those who represent us? Others know no more of us as individuals than we know of them. We can have neither confidence nor understanding save among the few who have lived among us and know our true desire for peace.

Thus we are looked upon exactly as we look upon others. At best enjoying the sympathy of the few who blame our own diplomats and militarists; as we blame theirs for the things that make us mad.

Sadly diplomats, top militarists and statesmen who cause the trouble don't get hurt when war comes. They talk suavely, think ponderously, and maneuver adroitly, well behind the lines. The conscripts fight and get killed. The people slave, produce, finance the war and go without the things they need.

That is true all over the world; no matter what countries fight, no matter which wins, victoriously only starts another argument in which statesmen and politicians disagree—and get relations all muddled up for another war.

When things go bad in war, we change generals.

Why is it that when things go bad in peace we let them go from bad to worse until we face another war, more bloody than the last?

Why must the American people be humiliated in the eyes of all the world because of the ineptness of their statesmen? Why not different statesmen?

None but the reds, pinks and Wallaces among us would have taken all the guff that statesmen let Stalin cram down our throats. We would have been no nearer war with Russia had we called her first bluff than we are by letting her kick us all over the lot.

SHOKAN

Shokan, June 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cordes of Glen Rock, N. J., called on Mrs. Elwyn Winchell Sunday afternoon. The couple are offering their Adirondacks camp of several hundred acres for sale and may buy a summer place in the Shokan country. Mrs. Cordes is the former Margaret Krickler of Shokan.

John L. Lacey, Sr., has employment on the Route 28 realignment job.

Benjamin Swenson of Brooklyn was a caller in the village Saturday.

Mr. Swenson, who rented a cottage here two summers ago, was looking for a place to rent or a building lot to buy.

George Hauser of Route 28 who was under hospital treatment last week is around again.

The George W. Pratt of Highland are at their mountain place for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Pratt now have two large swimming pools near their house, the one-time Lemuel Winchell farm-house. The pool completed last fall is fed by the lively little roadside brook which heads in a spring near Mrs. R. K. Story's summer residence.

Looking Backward

Thursday, June 9, 1910: Jay Gould Cudney, son of Hiram Cudney of Olive, married to Charlotte Elizabeth Arnold at residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, in Kingston by the Rev. Howard Snyder, pastor Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Beechford—Fred Russell of Mt. Pleasant will have charge of Cold Brook railroad station in place of John D. Lafferty who goes to the Lanesville station.

Rachel A. Quick, widow of James Quick, died at home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Quick who had always lived here, is survived by four daughters and two sons. Funeral services Monday at schoolhouse, the Rev. Buchanan officiating.

Krumholz—Mrs. R. Hallenbeck and son, Leland, are spending a few days at home of Mrs. Hallenbeck's brother, Everett Bulley, at Olive Branch.

Wittenberg—Elmer Winne and son are employed on new waterworks at Brown's.

Walter Castle, formerly of Shokan, is working for Sherman L. Short.

Mrs. Anthony Pastre has had an excavation made for a gasoline tank near the front entrance to her store on the north side of Route 28.

Lorenzo Barley, Olive Bridge man whose death was reported in Saturday's Freeman, was formerly a resident of the heights section of Shokan.

"Ren" and other members of the Jacob Barley family made their home for a number of years on what is now the R. B. Peck summer place.

He and his brothers, Loren and Silbert, were well known here as wood sawyers, some 30 years ago.

Tongore Tim's uncle, the mean ol' cynic, says it is "easier to marry the woman you love than to love the woman you marry."

Echo of Past

The Indian attack of June 7, 1663, upon Hurley, then known as the "New Village," furnishes an example of the difficulties which beset the earliest settlers of this historic place.

The Redskins did a thorough job of destroying the buildings, implements and fodies; they burned everything but a new, uncovered barn, a rick and a stack of reeds.

They killed Martin Harnemson who was found lying beside his wagon. Jacques Tysen, who lay alongside the Jan Harnemson's house, and Dorrick Arntsen who was shot on his horse.

They carried off 34 women and children, all of whom were later recaptured. Of the first settlers, Matthew Blanshan was a native of Antioch, France, who had reached New York April 27, 1660, on the ship "Gilded Otter."

He was a brother of the wife of Louis DuBois, another French Huguenot who was a storekeeper and a magistrate of the new village.

Matthew seems to have acquired the old Louis DuBois farm as his will, approved June 23, 1696, divides that property between Matthew DuBois and Jacob DuBois.

West Point, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—Wearing their new second lieutenant's bars, 18 members of the U. S. Military Academy's graduating class were married here yesterday. A 1948 class of 301 cadets was graduated at exercises at which Secretary of Defense Forrestal spoke.

The Fieldhouse where the concluding June Week program was held was jammed with 3,000 visitors and the corps of 2,100 cadets.

Farmers Can Still Sign for '48 Aid

Harry J. Beatty, chairman of the Ulster County Agricultural Conservation Association, announced today that farmers may still sign up for assistance in the 1948 program. He said the final date has been extended to June 30.

Enrollment has fallen off quite considerably this year Mr. Beatty said and the county committee would like to make doubly sure that all interested farmers have an opportunity to participate.

Some of the folks still haven't reported whether 1947 materials have been used he continued and these reports are needed and required before a farmer may be approved for any additional assistance.

Meetings have been held in all localities, except those near Kingston, so that farmers could make their reports and requests for 1948. In addition those who did not get to these meetings were sent, by the county office, blank forms on which they could report by mail.

"We know," Mr. Beatty continued, "that in some cases lime was delivered too late to be used in 1947 and in such cases we can transfer this material for the farmer's use in 1948, if he will

Unions Show Big Membership Boost

New York, June 9 (AP)—Membership of American Labor unions rose from 12,957,000 in 1946 to 14,280,000 in 1947.

These figures were given by the National Bureau of Economic Research yesterday in a preliminary report on a study of wages and trade unionism being conducted by Leo Wolman, Columbia University professor.

In 1935, union members totaled 3,648,100, the report said. Wolman reported the growth of unions from 1935 to 1947 was influenced by the following:

Founding of the Congress of Industrial Organizations; modifications in national labor policy and legislation; economic expansion since 1939.

only make the request but he should make his report anyway.

"As in 1947," Mr. Beatty said, "funds for this program are limited to about 50 per cent of previous years so to be assured of assistance farmers must be enrolled by the June 30 deadline."

"If you can't get to the office at 54 John Street, Kingston, phone your community committeeman and tell him what you want. He can enroll your farm for 1948 if you really can't get to the office. The county office is open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on phone Kingston 1440 and any Saturday morning. During July one in the office will be glad to sign up for you. Lime orders can be held for fall delivery. The county office is open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on phone Kingston 1440 and any Saturday morning. A MAN FELT LIKE HIS BONES WERE BROKEN DUE TO RHEUMATISM

One man recently stated that for years he felt like the bones in his legs were broken. This was due to muscular rheumatism. His muscles were swollen and his legs so stiff and sore that he couldn't walk without limping. He was in misery. Recently he started taking TRU-AID and says the feeling like his bones were broken disappeared the second day. The swelling and stiffness has gone from his muscles; now he can walk without suffering and says he feels like a new man.

TRU-AID contains Thera Great Medical Ingredients which go right to the very source of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get TRU-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Kingston.

Woodstock Artists
Discuss Problems
At Local Meeting

Woodstock, June 9.—The panel of jurors elected at the annual meeting of the Woodstock Artists Association last Saturday met with the approval of the hundred or more members present.

Ten artists were elected to jury the first and third exhibitions to be held in the gallery this season. They are Eugene Speicher, Charles Rosen, Hannah Small, Philip Guston, Nathaniel Kaz, Wendell Jones, Henry Mattson, Jack Taylor, Doris Lee, and Karl Fortescue. The executive board will appoint five members of this group for the first, third and fifth exhibitions.

Eugene Speicher, chairman of the executive board, presided at the meeting and briefly reviewed the activities of the past year which was one of the most successful in the history of the association. It was learned that the membership now totals over 300. Of this number, 107 are active members.

A resume of the progress for this season was given by Reginald Wilson and attention was called to the fact that it is entirely different this year in that the Association has not heretofore had a year in which it was entirely different. This is being done to encourage certain artists, on principle, will not submit their work to a jury.

The relationship of the Artists Realty Company to the Woodstock Artists Association was commented upon by Wendell Jones, president of the realty company. He spoke of the improvements which have already been made in the gallery as well as those being contemplated.

The bi-monthly symposia which were so popular last season will be continued this year. The subjects to be covered will be announced at a later date. Arnold Blanch requested the members to would like to hear discussed. The matter of the art gallery not being brought up and Mr. Blanch stated that the gallery could not be submitted by the Artists Association to political organizations but there was no reason why the artists in their own meetings could not discuss political questions affecting the artists.

There seemed to be some confusion in the minds of many present as to the qualifications necessary for active membership. In the first place it was stated an artist desiring active membership must submit his work to a jury. If approved, the executive board is requested to pass on the applicant who is then finally proposed to the entire membership for vote. The confusion seemed to arise in the question of whether it was an associate member while awaiting the vote on active membership. The executive board will clarify this situation in the near future.

Herman Cherry, chairman for the Woodstock Art Conference which will be held late in August at the Art Students League announced that through this conference, Woodstock is receiving far reaching publicity. A report of last year's conference has been published in book form and has been sent to libraries, galleries and museums throughout the country. Artists Equity sponsored the book and is most enthusiastic about these conferences.

Plans for this year's conference are tentative, stated Cherry, but it is our intention to correlate the arts as much as possible. To this end, one morning will be devoted entirely to new music, and it is expected that this will bring to Woodstock a number of composers, writers and musicians who might not otherwise be here.

The work being done by the Artists Equity was explained by its president, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, who stated that a large number of Woodstock artists were members. "Anyone who has exhibited in the Woodstock Gallery, through jury, is eligible for membership in Equity," said Kuniyoshi. The membership now totals 1,100 but their goal is 10,000. "Every state in the union has at least 300 artists who are eligible for membership. To be powerful, you must have a large membership, and I urge every active member of the Woodstock Artists Association to join," the speaker continued.

Fletcher Martin is now regional director of Equity. Kuniyoshi then briefly outlined Equity's accomplishments during the past year as well as the projects which are now receiving its attention. Among them, and of great importance, is the work being done towards arranging for annual exhibitions in the New York galleries of work by non-York artists throughout the country. They are also trying to assist artists having difficulties with dealers.

Whether it is advisable for artists to donate paintings for auctions was discussed at some length. This practice was definitely not recommended for the reason that it has been found in past instances that many such paintings not sold in the auction have been kept and later brought out and sold when the artist had acquired a reputation for his work, but in such cases the proceeds were not always given to charity.

Chairman Ludins announced that the prints to be given to sustaining members would be mailed before the end of June. Such procedure will be followed again this year and he urged that every effort be made to increase the number of sustaining members.

Newspaper Guild Has Meeting at Eighmey's

Woodstock, June 8.—Although members of the Newspaper Guild on the staff of the Kingston Daily Freeman were having a holiday on Sunday, when they met at the Shady summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey for a picnic supper prior to the organization's regular monthly meeting, the old hand hewn beams and the doors formerly gracing the "Mary Powell" and now to be seen in the Eighmey living room, immediately inspired ideas for stories to be written.

Having curious minds, the newspaper folk began firing questions at Henry. When and who built the house? How did you find it, etc., and etc. We learned that the house was built in 1832 and was the original schoolhouse in Shady. It was purchased and moved to its present location when a larger schoolhouse was necessary for Shady. Henry's father acquired it many years ago.

Art Students League
Holds Reception Here

Woodstock, June 8.—Students, faculty, and directors of the Art Students League greeted their neighbors during a reception held on Sunday afternoon between 2 and 6 o'clock.

There were so many guests that those arriving late had difficulty in seeing the interesting exhibition of instructors' work, and will no doubt again visit the exhibition room during the week so as not to miss the opportunity of seeing in one show paintings and sculpture by such prominent artists as John W. Taylor, Philip Guston, Sigmund Menkes, Nathaniel Kaz, Paul Feine, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Sidney Laufman, Fletcher Martin, Arnold Blanch and Karl Fortescue.

The league's board of control members are constantly thinking of ways and means to assist the students. Their latest project is the purchase of 50 bicycles which will be rented to students who cannot find living accommodations within walking distance of the school. Priority on the bicycles will be given to veteran students.

Maverick Sunday Concerts
Will Start on June 27

Woodstock, June 8.—The Modern Art String Quartet of Rochester will open the Maverick Sunday afternoon concerts on June 27. It will be the quartet's only appearance in Woodstock this season as they have been engaged

New 1949 Ford Shows Radical Body Change

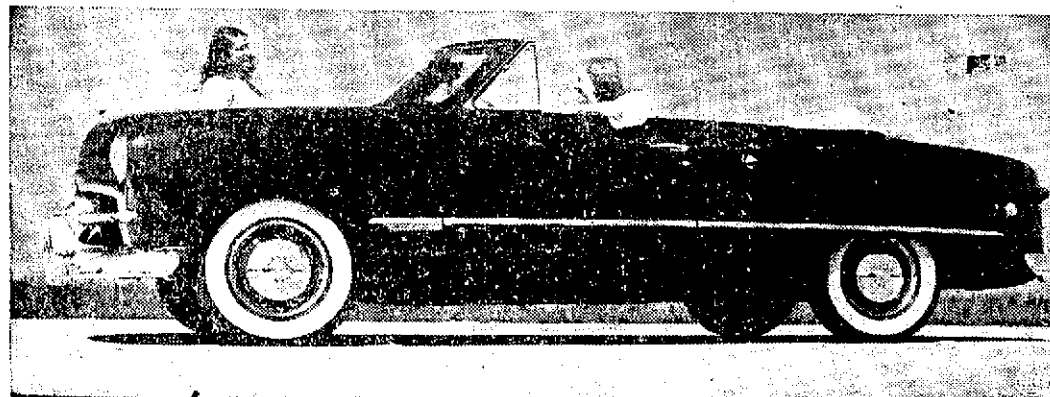

The 1949 Ford four-door sedan

These are the first pictures released of the new 1949 Ford cars. They show a radical change from previous models, featuring a sweeping silhouette so low that rear fenders have been eliminated. Front seat widths have been increased six inches. The 114-inch wheelbase is the same as in the 1948 model. Up to 10 per cent increased gasoline mileage is claimed for the six-cylinder engine and the redesigned V-8. The former develops 90 horse power, the latter 100. Top picture shows the four-door sedan, featuring increased windshield, visibility. At right is the front view, showing the air-scoop grille. The convertible, below, has full fender-width body.

A new member of the quartet is Karol Blum, who is an outstanding viola player. In Woodstock he will be remembered as having made several appearances at the Maverick in 1931.

Pierre Henrotte, long associated with the Maverick concerts, announced on Monday that William Kroll will be the musical adviser for the Sunday concerts. Kroll and Pierre who have long been friends, will work together and assure the public that the highest standards will be maintained at the concerts.

William Kroll, a most distinguished musician, may take part in some of the concerts. That is the hope expressed by all who know him.

The sponsoring committee for the concerts has decided to give a feature originated by Hervey White, which is to have a one-man exhibition of paintings in the concert hall. The artists who will be invited to participate will be announced very soon.

Woodstock Artist Has Exhibit in New York

Woodstock, June 8.—Yasuo Kuniyoshi, who has returned to Woodstock for the summer months, is currently exhibiting at the Down Town Galleries in New York city.

In his review of the show, Carlyle Burrows wrote in Sunday's New York Herald Tribune, "Kuniyoshi's draughtsmanship, while less concerned with line than with tone, is nevertheless, particularly subtle, especially in his early works, is involved with bristly statements, recalling the Orient, wherein a brush procedure is more native to the artist than crayon or pencil. It was some time before he outgrew this alliteration, to the extent that his art became consolidated with the Western idea of a fuller vigor in statement and at the same time less precious in its treatment of detail. Still, in the exhibition much of the work is of a markedly sensitive nature—note particularly the series of 'ghost town' studies of the west which were executed in the early 1930's, attractively simple in form, spacious in design and, with reference to the broad outlines, involved occasionally with fluent and pleasing rhythms. In these landscapes and in his acrobats and bullfight studies Kuniyoshi obtained with serenity and delicacy an individuality even more apparent than in his later and tougher achievements as a draughtsman."

"The recent Kuniyoshi retrospective at the Whitney Museum comprehensively dealt with the work of this artist. In that exhibition sufficient room was reserved for drawings, so that one was permitted to examine at good length the various facets of his work in this branch. Nevertheless, in its show of Kuniyoshi drawings and lithographs, from 1922 to 1947, the downtown gallery doesn't seem to be overlooking the subject. Rather does the exhibition appear to be distinct, and supplementary instead of a duplication of the work previously exhibited."

Kuniyoshi was selected by popular vote last summer as the Woodstock artist to do the prints which the sustaining members of the Woodstock Artists Association will receive. The poll was taken just prior to the close of the exhibition season at the Art Gallery. It is understood that a similar poll will be had this year.

Woodstock Forum Will Open Sunday Evening

Woodstock, June 8.—A large audience is expected to attend the first public meeting of the newly organized Woodstock Forum to be held in Town Hall on Thursday, June 10, at 7:30 p. m.

"The Dilemma of Youth in a Changing World" will be the opening topic. Those taking part in the discussion will be Walter S. Van Wageningen, moderator; Judge John M. Cushman, Kingston; Frank Muson, principal of Saugerties High School; Theodore Lee and the Rev. Charles E. Bennett, parents; Sam Wilson and Elizabeth Allen, high school pupils.

Daisy Kaiser Weds
Royal Jansen Here

Woodstock, June 8.—A marriage ceremony was performed on Friday afternoon, June 4, by Justice of the Peace George J. Brandely between Royal Jansen, Zena, and Daisy Kaiser, Woodstock. The witnesses were Leone and William L. Moffet of Lindhurst, New Jersey.

Trooper Dunn Arrests
14 for Violations

Woodstock, June 8.—A total of 14 arrests for traffic violations were made in Woodstock by State Trooper Ray Dunn on Friday and Saturday of last week. Eleven of those arrested were drivers of trucks owned by Deer Brothers, New Jersey contractors, working on the widening of Route 28. All of the violators were fined by Justice of the Peace Brandely.

Indian Exhibit Opens

"The Iroquois Indians," an extensive display concerning the lives and customs of the Confederacy of Five Nations, opened recently at the Tionderoga Museum of the New York State Historical Association. The Confederacy of Five Nations, called also The League of the Iroquois, is composed of Indians from the Seneca, Cayuga, Onondaga, Oneida and Mohawk tribes. This exhibit contains objects and paintings which feature the life and customs of the Iroquois Indians, who once held sway over most of New York State. There are on display costumes, masks, carvings and paint-

Leaves From Boyle's
Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—I just talked to a man fresh back from Moscow, and he scared me.

He said something I have said out loud and believed in my heart for some time—that the Russians are prepared to face another war, and we are not.

This is a rough way to put the world situation, but he says it is true. He is an experienced observer. Therefore I think his views are worth presenting, even though I have to do so anonymously.

Some of them are controversial from an internal standpoint, but he isn't politically partisan himself—so here goes. He says after a year and more in Moscow:

"It is foolish for Americans to kid themselves that there is an effective resistance movement against the Russian government. There simply isn't one."

"The Russians believe that there is only one more battle to win—the 'Third World War,' he said. 'And then they feel they'll get all the advantages they don't have now.'"

He was speaking of the mass-produced creature comforts such as the American civilization has produced most of and been most successful in distributing among its people—motor cars, washing machines, radios, and other gadgets to relieve life's tedium.

He is very critical, as many Americans tend to be after service abroad, and said:

"Both America and Russia are like two railroad engines headed down a one-way track toward a certain collision."

"It is a hell of a way to run a railroad—and it is a hell of a way to run a world."

This man—and he is voicing only his American beliefs—feels that the one way to combat Russian expansionism is by a display of internal and external force.

"If the American people feel that the Russians are afraid of them, they are wrong," he said. "They have been told by their leaders that they won the last war, and therefore today they believe they are invincible."

He said he felt the only thing that would permanently stop the Russians from a program of conquest and assimilation was the full threat of an American fist.

"Force is the only thing they respect," he continued, "because that is what they live by."

I asked him how he felt about his own country's awareness of its world problems and responsibilities. He is a patriotic man who saw men die in the last war and took his own share of the risks.

He said:

"All I can say is that the Russians have been conditioned by their propaganda to fight one more war for what they believe it will get them—and we aren't willing either to fight that war or put the money into Europe to prevent it."

This is only the opinion of one man back from Moscow who says he thinks the basic issue left in the civilized world today is: "human freedom."

He says we do have it here and they don't have it there, and that the world is a gamble between freedom and promised security. His own prejudice is toward personal freedom, and I present his views along with his prejudice.

The world, he says, will soon have to choose. It will be a momentous decision—if any historical decisions can be so clear cut. Today most decisions are compromises.

ing and full use of its beautiful natural environment.

A complete staff of trained and experienced counsellors and specialists in the various branches of camping will direct the program for the summer. Swimming in the beautiful Lake Cohasset will be supervised by a staff of trained waterfront directors.

The program of athletic activities includes tennis, volleyball, badminton, and softball. Arts and crafts, music, dramatics, dancing, overnight hikes, nature trails and hobby groups will add to the variety of activity.

Herb gardens were planted within the cloistered walls of European monasteries during the Renaissance, and the products used to treat ailing people.

Rudish Jewish Camp
Agent in Kingston

Local boys and girls from seven to 14 years of age may now apply for reservations at Camp Jekoc, Bear Mountain State Park, which is preparing for its seventh season under the sponsorship of the Poughkeepsie Jewish Community Center.

S. Rudisch of 7 Johnston avenue has been named Kingston agent for the camp, and further information may be obtained by calling him at 3940.

Camp Jekoc, located on Lake Cohasset in Bear Mountain State Park, serves children of the Hudson Valley and stresses real camping and religious life of the Iroquois as well as wood, shell, bone, horn and stone implements by which the everyday life of this tribal group is depicted.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

DIVORCEE IS NEVER "MISS"

A young woman writes: "When I was divorced five years ago the court gave me the right to use my maiden name, so I have been calling myself Miss Jane Brown. I am going to be attendant of honor at a wedding and the bride and I wonder whether I should be called matron of honor or maid of honor. Everyone knows I was married and it seems strange to refer to me as a maid of honor, but yet it is confusing to say, 'Miss Jane Brown was matron of honor.'"

Asking me now is rather late. You should have taken your father's name Jones and prefixed it to your husband's name Brown and called yourself Mrs. Jones Brown. Not having done this, there is nothing to be done now but to refer to you at the wedding as the attendant of honor.

Fiancee Has First Right to Ring
Dear Mrs. Post: Should a man's family, in the event of his death, ask his fiancee to give the ring back to them? This happened to me. While I am married now and there would be no hard feelings, I often have thought about it since and wondered whether I should not have been permitted to keep his ring.

Answer: His family should not have asked for the ring. But if the stone in the ring was associated with his family—for instance, if it was made of his mother's engagement ring—you should have sent it to them when you married. If he bought you a new ring, then his family had no claim on it whatever.

Breakfast Is Reception.
Dear Mrs. Post: If I am able to have only a breakfast after my morning wedding for the families and nearest friends, will I be required to have a reception later in the day, too?

Answer: The morning breakfast is the reception. There is no reason for a second one.

Do you know the proper dress for a daytime wedding reception? Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-6, "What to Wear at Wedding Receptions," gives the answer. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Wedding at Wallkill

MR. AND MRS. RALPH L. HARRIS

Miss Mona Faye Mack, Wallkill, chose May 30 for her wedding to Ralph L. Harris of Liberty at the Wallkill Reformed Church.

Harris-Mack Marriage

Performed in Wallkill

The wedding of Miss Mona Faye Mack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lester Mack, Wallkill, to Ralph L. Harris, son of Mrs. Harry Harris, Sniffen of Liberty and the late Benjamin Harris, took place May 30, at 2:30 p. m. in the Wallkill Reformed Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Seymour Purdy, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church of Newburgh, who also officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents 22 years ago.

Miss Betty Teils was organist. Harry Pfaff sang "Always and Why Do I Love You." The church was decorated with white gladioli, spirea and daisies with white satin ribbon and nosegays of daisies marking the pews.

Mr. Mack gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin with hoop skirt caught with orange blossoms. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion net was arranged with a headband of flowers. She carried white gardenias and rosebuds.

Miss Dawn Mack, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore an orchid organza gown with matching net hat trimmed with a plume and carried a heart of white and orchid sweet peas. The bridesmaids were the Misses Ruth Klebe of Colebrook, N. H., Geraldine Maley and Joyce McHugh, Wallkill; Beverly Wood, Montgomery, cousin of the bride; Janice Terwilliger, Wallkill, cousin of the bride. Two were green organza with green net hats and carried hearts of white flowers and three were pink organza with matching net hats and carried hearts of pastel colored sweet peas. Miss Ellen Hale, cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore an aqua net gown with wreath of white flowers in her hair and carried a basket of white flowers.

Bernard Harris was best man for his brother. Ushers were Edmund Young, Bullville; Norbert Murphy, New Jersey; George Rapp, Virginia; Paul Farney, New York; and Paul Rodell, New Jersey. John Langwick of New Paltz was ringbearer.

The reception was held in the church hall where the bridal party received about 300 guests and a buffet supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Harris left for a wedding trip to upper New York State and Canada. She chose for traveling a moss green gabardine suit, mink cloak, brown accessories and corsage of gladioli.

Mrs. Harris is a graduate of Wallkill Central High School, Becker Junior College, Worcester, Mass., and is a member of Kappa Omicron Kappa Sorority. She is medical secretary for Dr. Charles W. Beattie, Wallkill. Mr. Harris, a graduate of Liberty High School and Rider College, Trenton, N. J., is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity. He served in the army in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris will live in Wallkill.

So They Say...

This country will lead to world harmony. That we must attain—that we are going to attain. We are on the road even if it looks rugged and rocky.

—President Truman.

I have always felt that if we had only to deal with Russia we could settle matters—but we have to deal with communism.

—Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary.

The Russian attitude is, of course, encouraging, but I've very little confidence in the meeting of chiefs of state. Every time we have had such meetings in recent years we have lost our shirts.

—Rep. John Vorys (R), Ohio, on proposed Truman-Stalin meeting.

In general my feeling is that the less government control of inflation or anything else, the better; but, obviously, where control is needed to preserve our economy, it should be provided.

—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer.

The atom bomb is out of the question, just as gas was in the last war. It is too destructive to both sides.

—George Bernard Shaw, British playwright.

Questions—Answers

Q—What is a preferential primary?

A—Certain states hold primaries which permit the voters to express a preference for Presidential candidates. The results guide, but do not bind delegates to the national conventions.

Q—What poem saved a famous old ship from destruction?

A—"Old Ironsides," by Oliver Wendell Holmes. (The ship was the frigate Constitution.)

Q—What is unique about the sassafras tree?

A—The leaves take on three distinctive forms, as if to help make the tree conspicuous among other trees.

Q—On what date did the Constitution go into effect?

A—The Government declared the Constitution to be in effect the first Wednesday in March, 1789.

Q—What period is usually regarded as the golden age of Dutch painting?

A—The 17th century, when Rembrandt, Vermeer and Hals were at work.

the horror of the army, it discovered that the replacement part was not in stock. A hurried telephone call was put through to Washington, and the missing part was ordered flown to Panama at once.

Meanwhile, the stock officer, searching through his warehouses, discovered that bins full of the identical article he had sent to Washington for. But they were all stocked under different numbers.

On the Truman Train

At one stop, the President posed for pictures with two railroad conductors. Smiling, the President said, "If it weren't for me, you wouldn't have a job." The conductor reminded Truman that all railroad employees are working for the President, thanks to the railroad strike threat. "That's right," replied Truman. "I hope it won't be for long."

Most of the Truman speeches are being written on the train by hard-working presidential General Counsel Clark Clifford and Press Secretary Charles Ross from drafts forwarded by brain trusters in Washington.

Truman was introduced at Fort Wayne by ex-Senator Sam Jackson of Indiana. Jackson, now running for his old Senate seat, is the man who saved Truman's neck at the 1944 Chicago convention by hastily calling a recess just as Henry Wallace was about to be nominated for the vice-presidency.

At Cresview, Ohio, a switching point, the President was introduced by ex-Governor Frank Lausche, also running for his old seat. Neither Jackson nor Lausche spoke for President Roosevelt in 1944.

most of our metropolitan press tip-toe around the vital questions of our foreign policy. They are not subject to the boycotts of a new Ku Klux Klan conceived in the darkness of Europe and set loose among us crying, "bigot," "hate-monger" and "minority rights" at Americans whenever we resent some monstrous impudence or put in a word for our own rights as the patriotic law-abiding majority.

There aren't any hicks in the United States now. After two wars we are a far-traveled people and higher education is as common as the common cold. An item right under Tisdale's claret on call or outline of purpose on the editorial page says that James A. H. led, who makes his home up Long Mountain, "was with Jimmy Doolittle on that famed flight over Japan."

Long ago, the Daily Gate City of Keokuk, Ia., carried an almost endless rhapsody entitled "Keokuk will be a town like a jewel, a vision of the future of Keokuk after the completion of the great Mississippi dam. This was rough-hewn poetry but as literature it was certainly much better than the illiterate prattle of night clubs, politics and pregnancies for which the metropolitan press regularly pays more money than any poet-essayist or great editorial journalist ever got. About the same time the late Bert Leston Taylor reprinted in the "Line O' Type" in Chicago a saga of a runaway clipped from a weekly somewhere over behind Oltumwa. It was full of power and passion.

I remember—"As down the street that mare she dashed around and around her tail she lashed!"

Mr. Tisdale says "After traveling all over the world we settled in New Milford because we like it better—" but that his editorial purview is bounded by the town-ship line. I expect to see him breaking out all over nevertheless.

More Cream, Milk Now

New York, June 9 (AP)—The Board of Health has granted permission for milk and cream destined for "manufacturing purposes" to be purchased from outside the city-inspected New York milkshed. The ruling, effective August 15, was made yesterday after an appeal by New York city ice cream manufacturers. They had asked for the admission of western supplies to meet an expected summer shortage in the milkshed.

Colonials Sign Gus Maisel to Pitch Against Allentown Sox

Minor League Ace Makes Local Debut At Stadium Tonight

Gus Maisel, veteran minor league star, will pitch for the Kingston Colonials in the second game of the season tonight against the strong Allentown Red Sox.

Game time is 8:45 p. m. Maisel was signed late last night by Manager Joe Hoffman when Gene Phillips, original replacement for the ailing "Whitey" Tulacz also pulled up with arm trouble.

Allentown Red Sox, rained out of the original 1948 opener, will rely on Tom Keating, former Seton Hall College varsity flinger.

Has Good Record Maisel is a veteran with International League experience and in a brief stint with the Colonial League in 1947 won four games and lost one.

Meanwhile the Colonials' big gun, southpaw Warren Muller, is being primed for Saturday night's major engagement against the powerful New York Yankees, the 1947 Negro world champions.

Some of the greatest names in Negro baseball will be with the Colonials, a perennial powerhouse in the Negro National League. In their last appearance here in 1946, the Colonials shutout the powerful New York Yankees, 8 to 0, behind the southpaw wizardry of Lefty Louis Tiant.

No Lineup Changes Manager Hoffman said he would stand pat with the lineup that humbled the Jersey City Otto Macks, 8 to 2, in the one game played to date. If any change is made it probably will be in center field where Ralph Tiano, Tom Heneberry or Bill Lohrman will replace Gantz, the New Paltz swinger. Lohrman is with the club in a coaching utility capacity at the present time but is expected to make his first appearance as pitcher or outfielder in the next game or so.

Fred Price, the heavy hitting first sacker, who poled a triple and two singles; and Johnny Gentile who had three hits in the opener will be on the right side of the infield.

Allentown is one of the best independent traveling teams in semi-pro baseball. Virtually every member of the squad is a former college or prep school star.

The batting order:
Colonials Allentown
Gentile, 2b Tibert, rf
Van Herpe, ss Reilly, 2b
Ristau, lf Gannon, 1b
Price, 1b Kane, cf
Krohn, rf Fortuna, 3b
Francello, 3b Giorgio, ss
Gantz, cf Garbomonte, c
Corrigan, c Slater, lf
Maisel, p Keating, p
Umpires—Bill Murphy and Bill Schwab.

Harold Patridge of Modena was re-elected president of the Ulster County Foxhunters Association at a meeting held recently in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall in Modena.

Lynford Rexford was appointed vice-president; Clifford Newkirk, secretary; and Harry Hornbeck, treasurer. Five directors were also appointed: Frank Van Gonsie of New Paltz; John Snyder, Newburgh; Dennis O'Brien, Milton; William Quinn, Walkkill and Matthew Deegan, Kingston.

It was announced that plans have been completed for the New York State Foxhunters Summer Bonch Show at New Paltz on Saturday, July 13.

First Home Run Hitter

BUDDY VAN HERPE

The Kingston Colonials' brilliant shortstop, Van Herpe clouted the first home run of the season in the Colonial opener. A pre-war "boy wonder" with the old Reds, Van Herpe has developed into a standout performer. He will be at shortstop against the Allentown Red Sox tonight at municipal stadium. (Freeman Photo)

Touching All the Bases (A Softball Review)

— with — JAKE CHICHELSKY

City League Review:
With a record of five straight wins, the dominant team of the City Softball League is none other than Tom Provenzano's high flying Royal Grills. The standings were as of June 2.
Subway Grill, Union Hose and B'nai B'rith show championship potentialities at this stage of the first round, but they will have to step some to catch the dynamic Royal Grill powerhouse. . . . Some of the best hitters in the city grace the Royal roster, notably Joe Woods, Form Coughlin, Bosco and Frank Tomaseski; basketball chaps Frankie Sass and Al Thomas; bowling stars Jim Pruden and Jack Ortleib. . . . They have one of the best pitchers in the city in Joe Enright. . . . Tom Coughlin, Sr., is manager of the outfit.

Anent the Outstanding Players:
Every week we will write about the outstanding players of the City Softball League. . . . Our judgment will be based chiefly on two qualities exhibited by the player: the enthusiasm and the determination to play. . . . Everyone has heard of Jack Armstrong, the All-American boy, to be sure. . . . Well, he has a counterpart in Kingston in Tommy Malnes. . . . Tom possesses about the finest disposition of any athlete in the city. . . . It's amazing to watch Tom powder the softball at a .500 clip for the season. . . . He can play any position on the field. . . . In that Subway-Cordts Hose game of June 2, the Subway's two Tom's—Lewis and Guntelers—came up with a large home run. . . . The regular catcher, Joe Enright, was playing with Cher Emilio in the City Baseball League and a catcher had to be found someplace. . . . The conversation probably went something like this: Lewis: "Hey, Tom (Malnes), have you ever caught behind the plate?" . . . Mr. Malnes, who probably would have been just as happy in the outfield no doubt, replied: "Tell you the truth, Tom, I never did, but in case you need me, here I am." Men with that kind of spirit make winning ball clubs.

An Irate Softball Fan:
This is going to be about a softball personality whom City League players will remember as the efficient secretary of the 1946 league. . . . We refer, of course, to Pete Markle, the indomitable walking encyclopedia of softball. . . . Everyone has heard of Jack Armstrong, the All-American boy, to be sure. . . . Well, he has a counterpart in Kingston in Tommy Malnes. . . . Tom possesses about the finest disposition of any athlete in the city. . . . It's amazing to watch Tom powder the softball at a .500 clip for the season. . . . He can play any position on the field. . . . In that Subway-Cordts Hose game of June 2, the Subway's two Tom's—Lewis and Guntelers—came up with a large home run. . . . The regular catcher, Joe Enright, was playing with Cher Emilio in the City Baseball League and a catcher had to be found someplace. . . . The conversation probably went something like this: Lewis: "Hey, Tom (Malnes), have you ever caught behind the plate?" . . . Mr. Malnes, who probably would have been just as happy in the outfield no doubt, replied: "Tell you the truth, Tom, I never did, but in case you need me, here I am." Men with that kind of spirit make winning ball clubs.

Park Arrangement:
We would like to comment about a man who has the tedious task of allocating our parks for softball games. The man we are referring to happens to be one of the most popular athletes in the city. By now you know we mean Andy Murphy III, our new Superintendent of Recreation. . . . One of his primary responsibilities is to allocate the park diamonds proportionately among the City, Catholic A.A. and Federation Church leagues. The word "diamond" is used, although Andy may object, due to the fact that complications arise in over the course of a season. If a game is washed out the schedule, or a protested game must be played over, Andy has to consult his schedule chart to see what parks are available on future dates. . . . The bottlenecks confronted here is when numerous permits are issued for week-end play. . . . The only solution would be to re-schedule all postponed and protested games at the conclusion of that particular round. . . . This, of course, prolongs the season when the weather gets ornery on occasions. . . . We hope everyone enjoys this column.

THIS IS ALL UNTIL NEXT WEEK.

Shokan Wins Over Samsonville, 7 to 6 In 13-Inning Game

Shokan nosed out Samsonville, 7 to 6, in a 13-inning WHSS League contest Sunday on the Shokan diamond.
Bud Jackson paced the winners with four singles in five trips. S. Miller had a double and three singles for Samsonville and C. Barringer three hits.
"Hooks" Jackson was the winning hurler after relieving Boyce in the fifth. He struck out 10 men. C. Barringer and S. Miller, the Samsonville flingers, rolled up 21 strikeouts between them.

West Shokan still leads the league with four straight wins.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer
A "throw-in" in a deal between the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians two years ago, Gene Bearden, loomed today as the key player in the Indians' American League pennant chances.

The wavy-haired southpaw came along as excess baggage when the Tribe acquired Allen Gettel and Hal Peck in a trade that sent Sherman Lollar and Ray Mack to the Yankees. He has proved to be the best pick-up of the Indians have made since they plucked Bob Feller from the Iowa sandlots.

In fact, the 27-year-old rookie, thus far has outshone the great Feller on the mound and currently rivals Bob Lemon as the No. 1 hurler on the staff.

Has Six Wins

The Los Angeles knuckleballer gained his sixth victory last night when he pitched the Indians to a 2-0 triumph over the Red Sox in Boston. The victory increased the Indians' first place lead over the Athletics and Yankees to three and a half games.

The Yankees moved into a second place tie with the Athletics, coming from behind to edge out the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in a 12-inning night battle at Yankee Stadium. The Detroit Tigers nipped the A's 2-1 in another close one at Philadelphia.

Bobby Brown drove in the winning run for the Yankees with a two-out single in the 12th.

Newhouse Wins

Hal Newhouse continued to climb back by holding the Athletics to seven hits. It was his fifth straight victory after four consecutive defeats.

The Senators came from behind three times to tie the score then tallied twice in the seventh to nip the St. Louis Browns 6-5 in a night game in Washington. Carden Gillenwater and Mark Christman, with two hits each, led the Nats' 12-hit attack against loser Bryan Stephens and Clem Dreisewerd.

The St. Louis Cardinals advanced to within four percentage points of the National League leading New York Giants by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 7-5 in a night game in St. Louis.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen gained his sixth victory against one defeat, but Ted Wilks saved the game for him with some brilliant relief pitching.

Dodgers Stagger In

Scoring six runs in the first two innings, the Brooklyn Dodgers staved off a couple of desperate Cincinnati rallies to nip the Reds 6-5 in Cincinnati. Willard Ramsdell, relieving starter Ralph Branca in the third, allowed only two hits in six and one third innings.

Young Vernon Bickford gave up only four hits in pitching the Boston Braves to an 11-1 victory over Johnny Schmitz and the Cubs in Chicago. It was the Cubs seventh straight loss. Phil Masi and Tommy Holmes each collected three

Wiltwycks Trounce Frank's Sport Shop, 7-2

Secretto Hobbles Foe With 7 Hits

Consistency is a great virtue and Wiltwyck Motors had it in big doses yesterday when they polished off Frank's Sport Shop, 7-2, at the Athletic Field.

The victory achieved by Lou Secretto was the Wiltwyck's second and squared their City League record at 2 and 2. Frank's suffered their third straight loss to take over undisputed possession of the cellar.

Secretto Wins
Secretto pitched effectively and for a sixth inning outfield error would have earned a shutout. Big Jackie Watzka again played a wildness, gave up six hits, walked seven and his defense didn't help matters with six errors two of which were charged to the big pitcher himself.

Barber and Nicholson each had two hits for Wiltwycks, the former driving in three runs. Buster Ferraro pitched a triple, Joe Watzka with a pair of doubles and a single was the Frank's star. Martino had two singles.

Wiltwycks Consistent
A walk, error and double steal with Barber on the scoring end got Wiltwycks off to a 1-0 lead in the first. Watzka loaded the bases with walks to Uhl, Secretto and B. Ferraro in the second and Barber singled two home. Ferraro's triple to right field and Barber's long fly made it 4-0 in the fourth. Single markers followed in the next three innings.

Frank's escaped a shutout in the sixth when Joe Watzka got his third hit, a double to left field. Ralph Tano (two to) to Charlie who dropped the ball in front of the right field fence for an error. Secretto's walk loaded the bases and set the stage for Martino's two run single.

Cheer Emile Tonight
West Shore, one of the two teams without a win in the city, meets Chee Emile in today's action. The probable batteries have not been announced.

Nestor Rhinebeck Star

Popular Ray Nestor of New York drove his black and white Offenhauser at almost a mile-a-minute clip last night at the Rhinebeck Speedway to capture the 25-lap feature midget auto event before a large crowd. His time was 6:15.47.

Nestor, who last week captured the main event at New York's Polo Grounds, picked up first position at the half-way mark and never relinquished it as Gene McGrath and Bob Disbrow, Poughkeepsie favorite, fought it out for the second and third slots. A bit of brilliant driving saw Nestor pull away after drawing 10th position in the getaway. The runner-up positions developed into a real dog fight between McGrath and Disbrow with the latter finally coping second place. Several times it seemed as if McGrath would take over second place from Disbrow but the Poughkeepsie veteran's experience and driving knowledge proved too much for the Connecticut aspirant.

Larry Shurtler, West Shokan driver held fourth position for most part of the main event but was unable to keep pace with the speedy Offenhausers driven by many of the drivers and finished far back in the field of 14 cars.

Preceding the races, Rhinebeck Post American Legion conducted flag raising ceremonies as a new flag pole and flag was dedicated in the center of the infield.

Rock 1 to 2 Over Zale

Newark, N. J., June 9 (P)—The noisy extrovert, Rocky Graziano, meets stolid Tony Zale in Ruppert Stadium tonight in the rubber match of their violent ring series.

At stake this third time is Rocky's world middleweight championship, won from Zale July 16, 1947, in Chicago. In the first fight, September 27, 1946 in New York's Yankee Stadium, Zale was victor by a knockout.

Both previous battles were bloody, boisterous affairs ending in the sixth round. Odds are 8-1 this one also will not go the full 15 rounds scheduled. The fight starts at 9 p. m., E.S.T.

The Rock 1 to 2
Betting odds that last week favored Graziano 5 to 12, moved on the eve of the clash to 1 to 2. Zale is 34 years old and Graziano 26, and this age differential is counted Zale's only handicap. As punchers go, there's little to choose between the two.

Graziano weighed 157 and looked sharp after his final light workout yesterday. Zale rested the entire day. He weighed 158 when he wound up training Monday.

The official weigh-in was scheduled at 11 a. m., E.S.T., in the Newark city hall.

$500,000 Gate
Fair, warm weather after weeks of cold and rain brought a rush of late ticket sales. Promoter Andy Niederreiter predicted a turnout of 22,000 and a gate of $350,000.

Of this pot the champion is assured $120,000 or 40 per cent of the net. The challenger is guaranteed $60,000 or 20 per cent of the net.

The promoters rejected a $75,000 television offer and announced the bout would not be televised. In the event of a postponement the bout will be held Thursday night.

Mauro's Grill Amura Champs
Mauro's Grill of East Kingston will be feted as champions of the Amura League at a banquet scheduled Sunday, June 12, at Tommie's Tavern on High street.

Mauro's won the championship by a hefty margin over Tommie's Tavern and the Kingston Point. Mike Beau had individual high run of 16.

All league members who wish to bring their wives to the dinner are asked to notify their captains by Friday.

Two Veterans Break Ranks for G.A.R.
Rochester, N. Y., June 9 (P)—Today marks the beginning of the end for the New York State Department of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Five affiliated groups take over G.A.R. activities from a couple of Civil War veterans who at last are breaking ranks.

State Commander James A. Hard, 108, of Rochester and National Commander Robert Rownd, 103, of Ripley, will be guests of honor tonight at a father and daughter dinner at the Women's Relief Corps. Friday night the

Whiz Kids Set For Track Meet

The annual Grammar School Track Meet will be held at municipal stadium Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with School No. 5 defending its championship against eight city schools and St. Mary's and St. Peter's parochial schools.

The track meet is supervised by the physical education department of Kingston High School with Coach G. Warren Kias in charge.

Connecticut's Swinger Leads Women's Golf
Douglaston, N. Y., June 9 (P)—The field was chasing Patricia O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., today in the second round of the 54-hole medal play Eastern Women's Golf Championship.

Miss O'Sullivan, Connecticut state champion last year, took the first round lead yesterday with a three-over-par 76 while the defending champion, Maureen Orcutt of Hawthorth, N. J., dropped far off the pace.

Miss Orcutt, who couldn't make her wood shots behave, turned in an 82 over the par 73 North Hills Club to tie for ninth place in the field of 80.

Miss O'Sullivan, hitting them particularly well off the tees, shot even par 35 for the front side but what she strokes over in the return trip, totaling a 41.

The score left her two strokes better than Mrs. Ruth Torgerson of Garden City, N. Y., who fired 39-39-78.

Peace With Honor
New York, June 9 (P)—Sen. Glen H. Taylor (D-Idaho) says that if his New Party gets into power, the United States will "have peace with honor—without Russia." Campaigning last night in Brooklyn, the vice-presidential candidate promised $100 a month pension for every aged person. He also promised housing for veterans, better schools with higher-paid teachers and "100 per cent" support of the United Nations.

Truman Advisers Target of Attack

Democratic Leaders Say They Are Snubbed During Tour

Omaha, June 9 (AP)—President Truman's advisers, rather than the President himself, appeared today to be the principal targets of the attack started by Nebraska Democratic Chairman William Ritchie.

The Nebraskaan, who withdrew his support from Mr. Truman after the presidential party visited Omaha Saturday, had claimed support from party leaders in Oregon, South Dakota and Montana, in his protest against alleged "snubbing" of party leaders during the presidential tour.

South Dakota's Democratic Party Chairman, L. H. Lohr, reiterated his disapproval of the handling of the tour after he joined nearly 50,000 Montanans in greeting the President at Butte, Mont., last night, but said it would make no difference for as Montana's 12 convention votes are concerned, they are pledged to Mr. Truman, he said.

Low Wallace of Portland telegraphed Ritchie that Democratic leaders in Oregon are being ignored in plans for the President's visit to the state. Wallace said that Ritchie said they were in Nebraska. But last night in Portland he declared he is "100 per cent for Mr. Truman," whom he termed "grand fellow and a grand president." He said he was objecting only to the way advisers were handling the President's tour.

Eugene Mahoney of Sioux Falls, S. D., another whom Ritchie had counted a supporter, said he merely wrote Ritchie to find out "what happened in Omaha," and denied he was seeking to have South Dakota Democrats toss President Truman overboard.

After hearing Mahoney's comment, Ritchie said: "I must have misread his letter."

Both Mahoney and Wallace are national committeemen and Wallace is Democratic nominee for governor of Oregon.

Ritchie opened fire on the presidential tour Sunday, charging that "Lohr and Nebraska party leaders had been given 'the bum's rush' in Omaha during the President's visit to the 35th Division reunion. The following day Lohr wired Ritchie Montana party leaders also were being cold shouldered in plans for the President's visit."

Lee Dam today and top a number of off-the-cuff talks was a major address at Seattle tomorrow. Ritchie said the President's visit to the 35th Division reunion tonight and tomorrow night of Governor Mon C. Wallgren, frequently talked of as a candidate for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Mr. Truman got out of bed at Missoula, Mont., and, clad in pajamas and robe, greeted the crowd that met his train.

"I understand it was announced I would speak here. I am sorry I had gone to bed," he apologized. "But, I thought I would let you see what I look like, even if I didn't have on my clothes."

After extemporaneous greetings with the crowd, the President joked with photographers who crowded in to take his picture in night attire, then he returned to his stateroom.

In Butte, the President made his extemporaneous speech in the high school stadium. Police Chief Hart Riley said 9,000 persons were outside.

Mr. Truman confined his criticism of the Republicans to domestic issues.

"We have a bi-partisan foreign policy," he said, "and I hope that bi-partisan foreign policy will always continue. We are now the world's leader and we must have a foreign policy that is continuing. That is the reason it is necessary for our political fights to stop at the water's edge."

Denies He Described Account 'Satisfactory'

New York, June 9 (AP)—An assistant vice president of the Title Guaranty and Trust Company denied yesterday that he described to other banks as "satisfactory" an account whose collateral was proved worthless.

Malcolm A. Angus, 48, of Munsey Park, N. Y., testified before a jury in defense of charges that he and two other Guaranty Trust officials gave misinformation to other banks on a machine shop account whose collateral was proved worthless.

The Guaranty Trust Company is also a defendant in the general sessions court trial.

The prosecution charges that the defendants gave false information on the account of Metropolitan Machine Shops, whose president, William Benjamin, has been convicted of swindling.

Also on trial are Edwin W. Carlson, credit manager, and Loren H. Rockwell, vice president of the bank. Both have testified in their own defense this week.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Killing Re-Entries Is Good Defense

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

The most exclusive of all bridge tournaments is the masters individual world championship. To qualify as a participant, a player must be a Life Master, of which there are less than 125, or must be the holder of a national championship in a country other than the U. S. Participation is by invitation only and is limited to 36 players.

Phil Steiner, of Cincinnati, O., gave me today's hand at the recent Midwest tournament in Cincinnati, and it brings out a fine point in defense. Phil loves to bid slams, but he thinks that the most difficult hands to defend are part score contracts.

West held the opening lead with the diamond king and then shifted to the six of hearts. Declarer played low from dummy and East won with the king. East returned the ten of clubs and declarer's queen went to West's ace. West led the jack of clubs. South won with the king, cashed the ace and king of spades and led a small spade, throwing East in the lead. East then cashed his high club.

At this point it did not look as if any harm would be done by leading back either the fourth club or the jack of diamonds. But there is a theory followed by good card players, which is, kill re-entries.

If East leads either the fourth club or the jack of diamonds, declarer will trump it and after leading another trump, will end up with a trump and the jack and seven of hearts in his own hand. In dummy he will have the ace and nine of hearts and queen of diamonds.

West will be down to the ace of diamonds and queen-ten of hearts, and will have to make a discard on the last trump lead. If he discards the ace of diamonds, declarer will throw dummy's nine of hearts and win the last two tricks with the queen of diamonds and ace of hearts. If West lets go the ten of hearts, declarer will discard the queen of diamonds from dummy and win the last two heart tricks.

Sedan in River

New York, June 9 (AP)—An empty sedan which had been reported stolen late Monday night was hauled out of the East river at 126th street at 1 a. m. today. Neighborhood youths had reported they saw the car topple into the river at night. The car was identified as the property of Edward Doyle, 989 Nepperham avenue, Yonkers, who said he is secretary-treasurer of Local 456 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen (A.F.L.) and helpers.

Doyle, who said the union has been conducting a campaign for six weeks to organize a company here, told reporters the car was stolen Monday night at 129th street and Third avenue while he was on union business in the vicinity of the 129th street branch of the company.

the execution of quit-claim deeds to various parcels of real estate formerly held by the commissioners of public welfare of the city, before this commission was transferred to Ulster county on January 1, 1947.

Connelly explained that these parcels were held by the city as security for monies advanced for assistance and care by the city to their former owners, but were not conveyed to the county at the time of the transfer of the welfare department.

Now, according to the letter, the county desires to sell these properties at public auction and the city would receive a share of the proceeds of the sale proportionate to the funds advanced to the recipients of public aid. In order that no question should arise over the right to sell the properties the county attorney has requested the city execute the quit-claim deeds and convey the property to the county.

Connelly informed the council that "it would appear it would be to the interest of the city for the council to authorize" such a conveyance.

This letter was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee. An ordinance prohibiting parking on John street opposite lot No. 24 was passed unanimously by the aldermen. It was pointed out that the council had previously adopted a report of the Traffic Control Committee recommending such parking restriction, but had neglected to adopt the necessary ordinance. The parking meter which occupied the location has already been removed and the ordinance will take effect immediately.

A report was received and filed from Oscar A. Goodsell, city treasurer, informing the council of the award of the issue of $473,500 in serial bonds to the Goldman, Sachs and Company of New York during the public sale Tuesday morning and containing a tabulation of all bids received.

The council then adjourned for the month, subject to call. All aldermen were present and Alderman-at-Large Charles J. Turck presided.

is the greatest possible insurance against the war we do not want.

"It is the greatest possible insurance against our need to use the increased armaments for which we concurrently vote other precautionary billions."

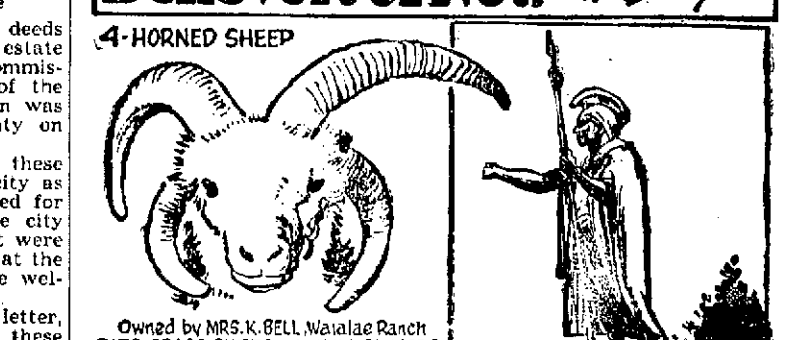

Stresses Basic Point

Repeatedly, Vandenberg stressed that the basic point at issue—that of the direction of the American foreign policy was settled when Congress passed the E.C.A. enabling legislation.

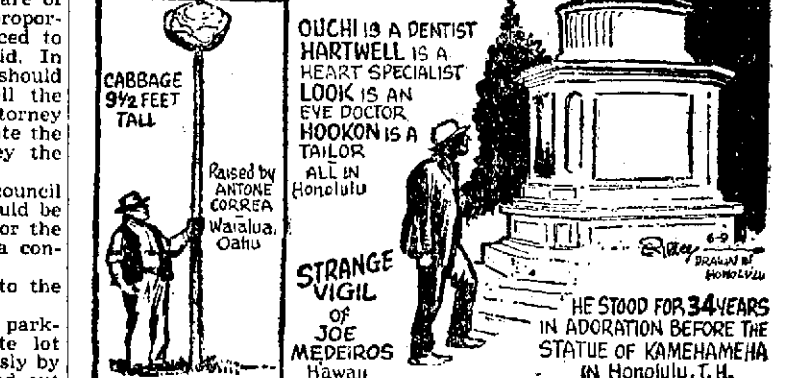

That was in April. At that time Congress put a $5,300,000,000 top on the first year's spending for the European Recovery Program and made $1,055,000,000 available to start it.

The administration then asked $4,245,000,000 more for the first 12 months. The House voted $4,000,000,000 for 15 months.

men he advised the mediator that the American truce observers requested by Bernadotte were on their way and would arrive soon.

Truce Terms

Bernadotte listed his nine truce terms as:

1. No fighting personnel, including persons identified as belonging to military organizations or bearing arms, to be introduced into the Arab states or Palestine, during the truce.

2. The mediator to exercise his discretion to determine whether men of military age are among immigrants in such numbers as to give one side a military advantage, and in such event to refuse them entry or to keep the overflow in camps.

3. The mediator to keep a check on all immigration at ports of embarkation and debarkation and place U. N. observers on ships bearing immigrants.

4. The mediator may ban all immigrants during the first week of the truce.

5. Movement of troops or war materials from one Arab country to another or close to the fighting fronts to be prohibited for the four-week period.

6. All fighting fronts to be stabilized during the period, and no increase in fighting strength or in war materials to be permitted, but routine troop replacements may take place.

7. War materials not be imported into the territory of any interested party.

8. Relief to be administered by the International Red Cross to the populations of both sides in such municipal areas as Jerusalem and Jaffa.

9. All war-like acts, on land, sea and air to be prohibited during the truce.

Veterans Can Enroll For Home Courses

Local veterans interested in studying at home under the G. I. Bill may once again enroll with the "world's schoolhouse," according to M. J. Oulton, local representative of International Correspondence Schools, who announced today that I.C.S. is again accepting new enrollments of veterans.

Veterans who have been inactive in their courses may now re-enroll, if they wish, provided they receive authorization from the Veterans Administration Office.

Up until last September, more than 100,000 veterans, including hundreds from this area, have entered training with I.C.S., Oulton said.

Veterans who have G. I. Bill of Rights entitlement may enroll in individuals or they may enroll for related training courses by request of their employers. They may also enroll for related training courses in connection with Public Law 16, rehabilitation training.

Of the 400 courses available through the school, most local veterans are studying technical subjects, although many other studying business, high school and college subjects.

Other veterans who are interested in the courses are requested to contact their local Veterans Administration office or Oulton at 21 Staples street, telephone 1256-W.

Central Hudson Starts Course For 11 High School Students

The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation today announced the selection of 11 area high school juniors scheduled to begin a three-week system of indoctrination courses in connection with the scholarship plan established by the company late last year.

The students are: Hugo Freer, Clearwater, R.D. 2, Poughkeepsie, a student at the Arlington High School; William Robert Rice, Pine Plains, a student at the Pine Plains Central High School; Elwyn Vernon Harp, Wurts avenue, New Paltz, a student at the New Paltz Central High School; James Fleming Hoyle, 195 Willow avenue, Poughkeepsie, a student at the Cornwall High School; Charles R. Pearson, R.F.D. 3, Box 176A, Saugerties, a student at the Saugerties High School; Roger E. Hard, Red Hook, a student at the Red Hook Central School; John O'Neil, Marlborough, a student at the Marlborough Central School; Francis Skelly, East Main street, Wappingers Falls, a student at the Wappingers Central School; Robert Charles Gerken, 15 Washington street, Cornwall-on-Hudson, a student at the Cornwall-on-Hudson High School; Victor Lyle Dowdell, Tivoli, a student at the Tivoli High School; Christas Thomadis, 2 Main street, Highland Falls, a student at the Highland Falls High School.

This group will undergo training from June 28 to July 16, inclusive. Twenty-one additional students are scheduled for this indoctrination training between July 19 and August 6, inclusive; August 9 to August 27, inclusive.

To Learn Business
The indoctrination courses consist of training in all phases of the company's business, with suitable examinations at frequent intervals.

Display May Be Seen
"Shaker Industries and Way of Life" is the title of the extensive display of material relating to the Millennial Church which recently was opened at The Fenimore House, Central Quarters of The New York State Historical Association in Cooperstown. With the motto "Hands to work and hearts to God," The Shaker way of life, a religious society also called the Millennial Church, was first brought from England by co-founder Mother Ann Lee in 1774 to the recently closed Niskayuna community near Watervliet. Once numbering 5,000 followers, the high mark of the Shakers was reached in the 1840s. But the belief in celibacy and the lack of younger members has brought The Millennial Church down to less than 40 members in three small New England communities.

Parole Violator
Elwyn Robinson, 28, of 5 O'Neil Court, Highland Falls, was arrested at Greenfield Park yesterday by Sheriff George Smith and County Investigator Clayton W. Vredenburg on a warrant charging violation of parole from Orange county where Robinson is wanted on an abandonment charge. He will be given a hearing before County Judge R. Egan of Orange county.

Court of Appeals Asked To Rule on Agreements

Albany, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—The Court of Appeals was asked yesterday to declare that New York stood opposed to any agreements barring Negroes from residential neighborhoods.

An attorney for Samuel Richardson, a Negro, also asked the state's highest court to reverse a judgment prohibiting him from buying a St. Albans, L. I., home for which he contracted in 1946.

The action is the first New York test of the validity of restrictive covenants since the U. S. Supreme Court ruled against them in a similar case May 3.

Andrew D. Weinberger of New York City, appearing for Richardson, maintained that the Supreme Court decision prohibited court enforcement of restrictive covenants.

Such covenants are unconstitutional and against "public policy" in New York, Weinberger said, and he asked the court to state this.

His arguments were unchallenged, either at the hearing or in briefs filed by the opposition.

Richardson proposed to buy a home in 177th street, St. Albans, from Mrs. Sophie Rubin, Harold F. Kopp, John H. Lutz and other property owners who had signed an agreement to keep Negroes out of the area obtained a permanent injunction prohibiting the transfer.

The injunction, issued at a special term of Supreme Court in Queens county, was upheld unanimously by the Appellate Division Second Department, last December 22.
